SECURITY

When it comes to vetting guards and sharing industry-proven knowledge, SURVEILLANCE SECURITY SERVICES has uniformed, trained, deployed, and supervised security guards for every situation imaginable.

All our staffs receive full training in fire safety and first aid procedures and are trained to be able to carry out evacuations, identify any potential security threats and recognize any other hazards within premises.

Our trained manned security guards (both male and female) have a skill set that allows them to make the right security decisions to assess the threats and environment for corporate, private or event security.

In addition to SIRA training, our security personnel are given regular refresher trainings to perform their duties in a highly professional manner. Our Security officers are fully equipped with latest technology to record real-time information to be available for the clients immediately. They are well educated to observe crime, to keep the people out of danger hazards area, to be alert to the dangerous situations and to ensure a safe environment.

CCTV OPERATORS

Our Surveillance Systems Operators (CCTV operators) are fully trained and licensed by SIRA for the execution of their duties. They are exceedingly observant with a high level of concentration and entrusted with many responsibilities ranging from operating and monitoring banks of screens to reporting incidents as evidence.

Throughout every duty undertaken, our CCTV operators maintain integrity and accuracy and ensure the confidentiality of all information gained by compliance in line with standards and legislation. They are trained with the necessary skills to respond to the real-time incidents.

They are proficient in daily system checks, live video monitoring, live incident tracking, retrieving recorded images, handling access control and maintaining security records.

EVENTS SECURITY MANAGEMENT

Our SIRA licensed security personnel are fully trained to handle all your event security needs. They are experienced in overseeing and managing the entire event from the beginning to the end.

They are well prepared to use techniques to deal with any complications and situations that may arise. They are well versed with the procedures for the security screening, parking access control, swift response to incidents and environment monitoring. Our In-house risk assessment team performs a thorough risk assessment prior to the event to ensure we are prepared for all contingencies.

PERSONAL / PRIVATE SECURITY

With the proven experience, our muscular and high built bouncers are refined in crowd management and problem solving abilities. They are well trained to maintain order and enforce rules and regulations. When it comes to VIP's protection from the crowd, our bouncers are there as a strong pillar for them to protect them from the malicious people and the unruly crowds.
